Youth Protection training is designed to help you keep our youth safe from child abuse. It will also instruct you on BSA policies that you need to follow in your interactions with youth. Youth Protection training is required for all registered adult leaders and must be updated every two years. If you cannot remember when you took it the last time, take it now! Although youth Protection training can be taken online at www.myscouting.org in person training will give you the chance ask questions from an experienced Scouter and gain more insight into your responsibilities.
